The Rule of the Pious, Anti-Christian Lawmakers: Part Two

16-Sep-07

Dear Nanci,

This morning I felt impressed to add to my original comments which were a response to your charge. In your accusation, you assert that a true prophet does not defend himself. Yesterday, you were clearly shown that this is not a judgment-passing, bible-based conclusion. It is presumption which has been conjured from your own system of logic; it is your desire to tell Elijah how he should teach his message; it is an insult to the Comforter in His efforts to prepare you for the judgment by reminding you of the Testimony of Jesus.

Today, I must now add that, not only is your charge defining the work of a prophet in error, but also your accusation about self defense is likewise a self-conjured synopsis. To the MSC, its work is not “self-defense” but it is Bible defense or “standing by the Door (Christ)” like a true Porter. If the MSC functioned as you suggest by merely delivering the straight testimony and not defending it, then its detractors, like those whom you seem to favor on this forum, would win the day with their deceptions and sophistries. Instead, part of Elijah’s commission is to do exactly that which was done anciently on Mt. Carmel, defend the Gospel against false-hearted men. If he should operate in any other way, then Davidia, who is ever so anxious to reject the light and go back to sleep, would be forever sealed in their sins and would use as an excuse the passive approach to truth which you recommend to Elijah. Such an excuse would also be used by Satan to further impeach the righteousness of Christ.

In final conclusion, you say, in your non-biblical law, that the MSC should allow the spirit to do the work. To this I ask which one: the one which causes others like Johnathan, Jeanie, Michael, Vanguard calling and so many others on the forum to deceive and to deny the Bible, or do you refer to the Spirit of Truth. If it is the latter, then you should rejoice as the struggle which you now behold, the fight that is being waged against the enemies of the Bible, is the work of the Spirit of Truth. It is his work and his battle to resist the Devil and his lies. Should the Comforter put down His defense of the Gospel, there would be absolutely no hope.

Sincerely,

Derek

The Rule of the Pious, Anti-Christian Lawmakers

Dear Nanci,

You gave the following law for prophetic behavior:

“...prophet would not worry about what others say/write, he would just give a straight testimony and move on leaving the spirit to do the work of convicting the heart of the truth. Self arising to defend oneself is not from the Spirit of God.” —Your E-mail, Friday, September 14, 2007 8:32 AM

My presumption is that you are a Davidian, one who desires to escape the promised “avalanche” to come. Thus I also presume that you adhere to VTH’s only prescription for safety: living faith in the Bible. With this presumption in mind, please tell me where in the Bible have you extracted your above cited law of the prophets. Did you get it from the Old Testament, from the Gospels, from other portions of the New Testament? Or, like a condemned, criminal outlaw, a self-channeling idolater, did you simply just make up that law and add it to the Gospel in your efforts to defeat the Bible-based, Elijah message, the message promised to reveal to Davidia how to pass the judgment? If so, then why should any on the forum heed or show fidelity to your blue-smoke engender, Testimony of Jesus rejecting, Ezekiel-nine predestined, phony, self-made, self-righteous law of prophetic protocol? Why should they show more respect to your laws than you show to those pronounced by the Lord?

Sincerely,

Derek
